

Project 4

Team: Benjamin Morris, Michael Corbett, Michael Dennison

Note: We used NodeJS with Express instead of PHP. We are also using server-side rendering. In order to view our site, node will need to be installed with the project dependencies. Also, because we are using server-side rendering, our controller is loading the dropdown lists (e.g. states and store products), not AJAX per instructor's permission.

NodeJS Installation:

<https://nodejs.org/en/>

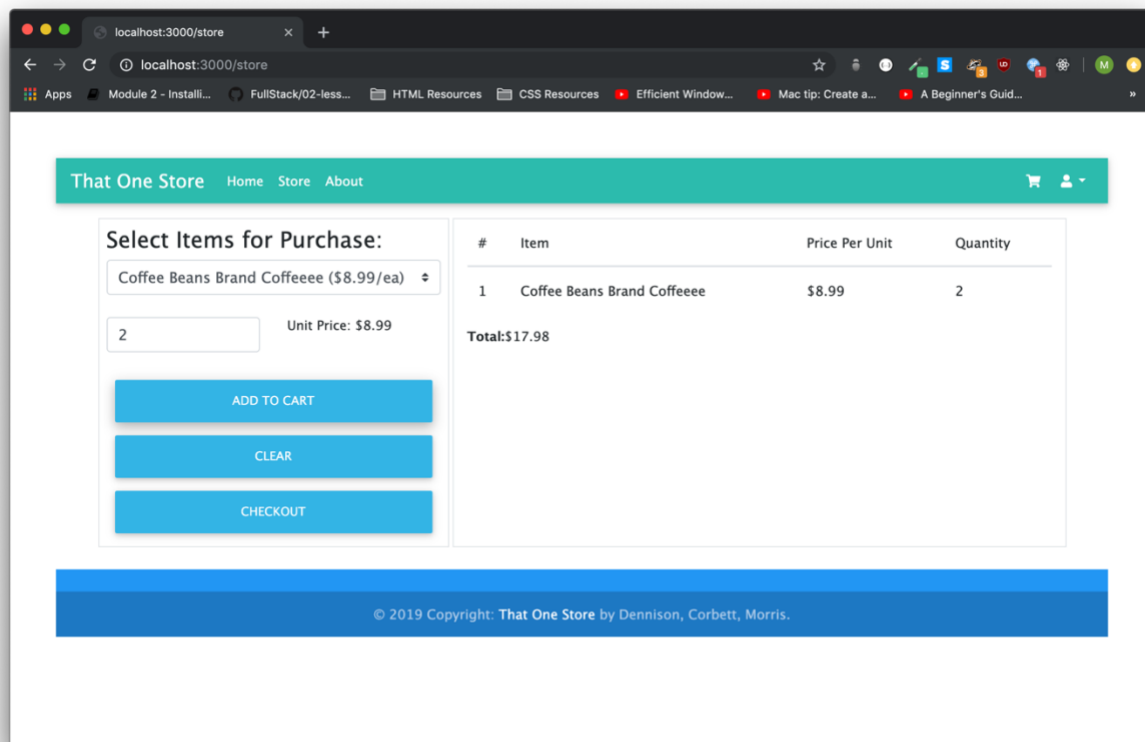

Once node is installed, unzip cs3320.zip and cd into the cs3320 directory. Once you've cd into the directory, run 'npm i' or 'npm install' to install our projects dependencies. After they have installed, run 'npm start' and open your browser to <http://localhost:3000> to view our site.

See additional information and live gifs of our working site here:

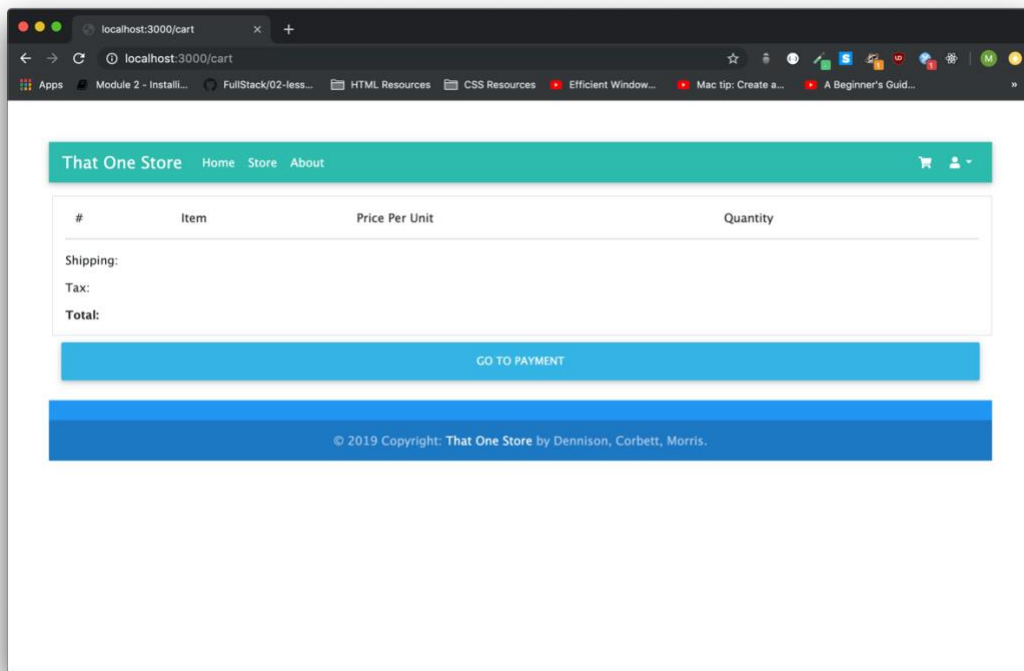

<https://github.com/miketdennison/cs3320>

We've also provided live gifs of our site working in the screenshots folder with our project (dynamic_store_example.gif).

Account:

A screenshot of a web browser displaying the 'Account' form on a website. The browser's address bar shows 'localhost:3000/account'. The website's header is teal with the text 'That One Store' and navigation links 'Home', 'Store', and 'About'. On the right of the header are icons for a shopping cart and a user profile. The 'Account' form is centered and contains the following fields: 'First name' and 'Last name' (side-by-side), 'Address 1', 'Address 2', 'City', 'State' (a dropdown menu), 'Zip', 'E-mail', and 'Phone number'.

Shipping:

A screenshot of a web browser displaying the 'Shipping Information' form on a website. The browser's address bar shows 'localhost:3000/shipping'. The website's header is teal with the text 'That One Store' and navigation links 'Home', 'Store', and 'About'. On the right of the header are icons for a shopping cart and a user profile. The 'Shipping Information' form is centered and contains the following fields: 'First name' and 'Last name' (side-by-side), 'Address 1', 'Address 2', 'City', 'State' (a dropdown menu), and 'Zip'. Below these fields is a blue 'SUBMIT' button. At the bottom of the page, a blue footer bar contains the text: '© 2019 Copyright: That One Store by Dennison, Corbett, Morris.'
